Quote of the Week

"People with goals succeed because they know where they are going. It's as simple as that."

- Earl Nightingale

Last week we discussed what Inspires You to do the things we do. We received an amazing response from participants with reasons why?

"I want to be around for my kids!"

"I'm tired of being tired, I want more energy!"

"I'm training for a 5K."

"I'm getting married and want to fit into my dress."

We received hundreds of different reasons why and each one of them had a common theme, a GOAL.

Rather if you are trying to fit into that dress or training for a race having a goal in mind is always a great way to stay motivated during the 100 Day Program.

When setting a goal, have the end in mind and work backwards. Where do you want to be at 100 days, 75 days, 50 days or even at the 25 day mark? By breaking down your goals in 25 day increments you allow yourself to reach that goal. Build on or reset your goals as you progress down the path to a healthier lifestyle.

When setting your goal keep these things in mind:

- Be passionate about your goal.
- Be realistic. You have a 100 days to accomplish this goal; take it in stages.
- Seek Support. You don't have to do it all by yourself, that is why you are part of a team.
- Develop a Game Plan. If you are working out 20 minutes a day now, set a goal by day 25 to increase your minutes.

- Don't give up. Hey, we all "slip"! When you slip, get back on track and learn from your experience.
- Have FUN and reward yourself! Remember to reward yourself for accomplishments along the way.
- Believe in yourself. If you do anything these next 100 Days, BELIEVE IN YOURSELF.

P.S. Attention Captains: Visiting with your teammates about their goals is a great way to support one another in the 100 day program. Set a time to get together this week to visit about each others goals.

Incentives and Prizes

25 Day Incentive

The 25 day milestone of the program is approaching! Your entire team must be completely up-to-date in recording for the February 5th recording period in order to qualify for the 25 Day Incentive. You have until Sunday, February 7th at 11:59pm CST to enter your data for the Feb. 5th recording period. Teams that qualify will be entered into a random drawing to win $5 Subway gift cards for each of your members. Good luck!

7 Smart Snacks for Diet Success

Think you can't snack when you're trying to lose weight? Think again. These healthy, low-calorie snacks will satisfy your diet cravings and help you reach your weight-loss goals. By Lisa Kovalovich Whitmore

For many, dieting equals food restriction. Snacks? They usually get eliminated in the name of saving calories. But snacking when you're watching your weight is actually a good idea. "[When dieting,] people often wait too long in between meals, so by the time they eat, they're so hungry, their portions or choices are out of control," says Linda McLachlan, RD, CDN, a New Jersey dietitian with Nutrition Matters, LLC. "Snacking helps keep you satisfied and wards off cravings." Here, seven low-calorie snacks to help you with your diet goals:

1. Homemade Trail Mix

"Diet-friendly snacking doesn't necessarily have to be low-fat," says McLachlan.

What's more important: Portion size. A homemade trail mix of walnuts, mini chocolate chips, and raisins is a snack that's satisfying (thanks to the sweetness and fat) and healthy for a dieter if portion sizes are kept in check. "Mix a palm full of walnuts with a pinch of chocolate chips and a pinch of raisins -- it's not always realistic to measure," says McLachlan.

Recommended serving size: about 1 ounce of walnuts and about a teaspoon each of raisins and chocolate chips

Calories: about 250

2. Apple Slices with Lowfat Cheese
3. Graham Crackers with Peanut Butter
4. Tomato Soup with Baby Carrots
5. Frozen Tamale Pie
6. Egg Salad
7. Canned Mandarin Oranges with Light Whipped Topping

Recipe of the Week

Sesame Chicken

Dipped in teriyaki sauce and coated with sesame seeds, this no-fuss chicken brings home the flavors of the Orient.

Prep: 15 minutes

Makes: 4 servings

Ingredients:

4 chicken breast halves (about 2 1/2 pounds total)
Nonstick cooking spray
3 tablespoons sesame seeds
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
3 tablespoons bottled reduced-sodium teriyaki sauce
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
Fresh pineapple wedges (optional)
Shredded spinach (optional)

Instructions:

Skin chicken; set aside. Lightly coat a large baking sheet with nonstick cooking spray; set aside. In a large plastic bag combine sesame seeds, flour, salt, and cayenne pepper. Dip chicken in teriyaki sauce. Add chicken to the mixture in the plastic bag. Seal bag. Shake bag to coat the chicken.

Place chicken, bone sides down, on prepared baking sheet. Drizzle melted butter over chicken.

Bake in a 400° oven about 45 minutes or until chicken is tender and no longer pink (170°F). If desired, garnish with pineapple wedges and spinach.

Nutrition Facts per serving: 293 cal., 9 g total fat (3 g sat. fat), 115 mg chol., 460 mg sodium, 7 g carbo., 1 g fiber, 45 g pro.

SPONSORS CHANGE YOUR CHOICES. CHANGE YOUR LIFE!

The image is a promotional banner for the Richard O. Jacobson Foundation. It features a blue header with the text "SPONSORS" on the left and "CHANGE YOUR CHOICES. CHANGE YOUR LIFE!" on the right. The central focus is the "Richard O. Jacobson FOUNDATION" logo, which includes the name in a cursive font and "FOUNDATION" in a bold, sans-serif font. Surrounding this central logo are seven brand logos: Diet Coke (top left), Hormel (top right), Unilever (bottom left), Chicken of the Sea (bottom left-center), DANNON (bottom center), Campbell's (bottom center-right), and kraft foods (bottom right). The background of the banner shows a faint image of a woman and a child.
